
JUST AN OLD SMOOTIHE IN OPERATION . . . Residents of Campbell and vicinity have driven over the bumpy Winchester Road the past few months to the detriment of both the springs on their cars and their own tempers, were jubilant this week as the bumps on the road began to disappear. Responsible for their disappearance is the dinosaur-looking machine pictured above just as it began its operation.

In the first picture on the left the traffic guard holds up the "Stop" sign to warn motorists that the machine was about to roll. That's LeRoy Black (with his hands on hips at the rear on the right). The machine is next pictured almost ready to cross the intersection at Vince's Food Center at the Campbell Ave. and Winchester Road. That really isn't a street car in the next photo but the editor shot this one from flat on the ground. That's real smoke, too, we'll have you know. To remove the bumps the big machine sends flames into the road bed to soften 'em up.

In the last picture the "mopping-up" crew is at work, following in the wake of Big Bertha. The "moppers" are just crossing the intersection of Winchester Road and Campbell Ave. Note the "CAMPBELL" sign and the traffic signals.

The long awaited bump-removal project is being done by the Leo P. Piazza Co. of San Jose, low bidder for the job. All Winchester Road through the city (from the south line of Hamilton Ave. to the south line of Budd Ave.) will be planed, (tha's what this smoothing job is called) and then a two-inch surface will be added. The entire job will cost $14,900 with part of the money for it coming from the State as part of the funds alloted for damage to roadways caused by floods. The major portion of the bumps on Winchester, it is alleged, appeared after the heavy floods of last Christmas.

Winchester Road will not be widened under the present contract. That little job will come later. How much later is still the $64 question. — Campbell Press photo.

Operation Face-Lift Continues Fast Pace

"Operation Face-Lift" for downtown Campbell continues to gain momentum. Verle O. Grizzle, owner of Grizzle's Jewelers, 381 E. Campbell Ave., is the latest ally to join the improvement parade for the stores in th[illegible] on E. Campbell Ave. He announced this week that pla[illegible]wn for the remodeling of store front of the building he now occupies.

Grizzle said that the remodeling plans will be presented for approval to the Planning Commission tonight. He explained that the plans call for the front part of the store, now housing a barber shop in addition to the jewelry store, to be remodeled into one store. The new store will be occupied solely by the jewelry firm.

The barber shop is operated by Orrie Grizzle, Verle's father. The elder Grizzle has barbered in Campbell for more than 40 years. With the closing of his shop he plans to retire and only barber on a part-time basis in other shops in the area. He will close his shop this Saturday. Associated with him in the shop at the present time is Tommy Petroff, who will continue to barber in Campbell in another location.

Verle Grizzle said that the building, which is to be remodeled is one of the better constructed ones in Campbell and was built by his father about 1930. Because it will only be remodeled and the plans do not call for any new construction, Grizzle does not expect to be affected by the 10-foot setback requirement that will be in effect when the Campbell Ave. plan-line now under discussion is adopted.

The jeweler said the remodeling design will follow that of the almost-complete Ainsley Corporation building next to it with an overhanging marquee and rustic-type of exterior. There will be a recessed show window and the present sandstone masonry will be utilized.

Grizzle has occupied his present location for six years and the new store will triple his present floor space, he points out. He will have 18-foot frontage on Campbell Ave. extending about 22 feet in depth. He hopes to have the remodeling done by December 1.

The remodeling of the jewelry store is the latest announced plan in the dressing up of the business district. Other plans either under way (or will be shortly) include the Nelson Brothers store-front change, remodeling and new construction for William Lloyd, a new building for Tony Raffanti and another new building for the American Trust Co.

Planners Meet Tonight

City Planners face a light agenda tonight at their meeting in the Country Woman's clubhouse at 7:30 when they must pass on remodeling plans for a store building and set a date for a public hearing on a zone-change request of Mr. and Mrs. Burda for their property at 60 Mission Way.

The Burdas who are asking that their property be rezoned commercial, (it is now residential) are owners of the old Campbell Hatchery. They have appeared before the Commission before in their quest to to change zones. This time, they have added a parcel they also own fronting on Rincon to the two parcels on Mission Way.

Verle O. Grizzle is the applicant for the remodeling okay for his store front at 381 E. Campbell Ave.

RAIN DROPS

Last Tuesday's storm brought .28 inches of rain to the Campbell area, bringing the total for the yea to 1.12 inches, according to the Campbell Water Co. gauge. Normal to date is .82. Last year at this time rainfall amounted to a "trace". Total rainfall last year was 21.12 inches.

Schools May Hold Joint Elections On Bond Loans

Residents of the Campbell High School District will vote in February on a proposed 7 million dollar State aid loan and a bond issue of an as yet undetermined amount.

It is expected that a joint election will be held by the High School District with Campbell Union Elementary School District.

Trustes of the High School District have asked its superintendent [illegible]ance Hill, to work with the County Counsel's Office in setting the date.

The State funds will be used to construct high schools on the High School District's three sites. These schools are expected to be in operation by 1960.

It is necessary for a school district to be bonded to within 95 per cent of capacity before it is qualified to receive State aid.

The rapidly growing Elementary School District is considering the proposed joint election, according to its superintendent, William C. Henley. The District will probably set the amounts at the November 8 board meeting.

Three New Industries To Come to Campbell

Three more small industries were assured Campbell this week with the announcement made by Noel J. Brown, San Jose business man, that negotiations had been completed for the purchase of a seven-acre tract near the southern city limits.

The site purchased is located at E. Parr Ave. Part of this area has already been annexed to the city and it is anticipated that the remainder will be within the city as soon as annexation proceedings can be completed.

Bob Houston of the Houston Realty, handled the details of the transaction for both the seller and buyer. The property was formerly owned by Ed Carlson.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, played an important role in the "selling" of the town to Brown and his associates. Cava said this week that he plans to start annexation proceedings for that tract of land adjacent to the Brown purchase on which Cascade Research, Inc., now of Los Gatos, plans to build. Other land adjacent to it will also be included, he said. Cava said that Cascade officials were as vitally concerned over what type of industry would be located next to it but have agreed that the Brown firms met all heir requirements.

The three industries in which Brown is interested include the Noel Brown Manufacturing Co. (a tool and die concern); D. W. Dorrance Co. (manufacturer of terminal devices for artificial arms) and the A. J. Hosmer Corp. (manufacturer of artificial arms). The three companies are now operating under the same roof at 748 Coleman, San Jose, where they are cramped for space.

It is planned, according to Brown, to construct a 10,000 square foot building on the site. The firms will not need all the acreage and will probably sell of some of the property, he said, to other industries.

In this same connection, Cava reported that another industry is in the process of purchasing eight acres of land in the same area but closer to town.

The three Brown industries employ about 30 people at the present time with 20 of the employees working for the A. J. Hosmer Corp. This firm is rated as one of the largest manufacturers of artificial arms in the country. It is a wholesale operation with their products, all custom-made, going to customers in all parts of the world. The D. W. Dorrance Co. makes the terminal devices(hooks, etc.) that are affixed to the artificial arms.

Trustees Make Allowance on Bus Service Hassle

Campbell Elementary School District trustees made an allowance last Thursday night to parents who had petitioned for a reestablishment of bus service for the children of 44 families in the general area of Blackford Lane and Meridian Rd.

Trustees voted unanimously to reinstate bus service on a temporary basis north of Blackford Lane to St. Francis Drive, and east of St. Francis to Willow St.

According to William C. Henley, superintendent of Campbell Union School District, no radical change in the school transportation policy established last July has taken place. The line established between walking and riding has been modified, according to Henley. The board had pointed out that there are presently enough students in the zone to fill the buses.

However, the board declared, if buses are over-crowded these children will have to walk or be transported by parents.

Attention was brought to the Rumor has it that hiding signs is a new method being used to keep drivers alert. It's a good thing the sign marks the "end of 35 mile zone" rather than the beginning. About all it could do is make some motorist late for work. Campbell Press editor took the picture on a tip from a reader.

Kiwanians Hear Baseball Talk

Sal Taormina, voted by fans to be the most popular San Francisco Seals ball player, and John McCall, New York Giants pitcher, were guest speakers at last Tuesday's Kiwanis meet, when they talked on the personal factors involved in world series games and responsibility of the pitcher in winning games. Following their talks, guest speakers answered many questions on baseball. Carl Field, chairman for the day, arranged the program.

Among guests at the meeting were Wade Wilson, Campbell Union High School coach, who brought with him Dave LaBarbara, member of the school's championship ball team.

Christine Anderson, CUHS senior, was also a guest at the meet. Christine is a member of the student body and was a representative to Girls' State at Sacramento early this year.

On The Line in Campbell

Charles W. Cantoni and Casey K. Clark, both of Campbell, were among the 438 University of Santa Clara students who made the President's honor roll during the 1955-56 academic year. During the 1955 fall semester, 215 students earned a "B" or better average, while in the 1956 spring semester, 223 men achieved the same rating.

Milt Nelson, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of the Board of Directors for Thursday, November 8. The regular meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, November 6, but because of the election it has been postponed. Nelson urged all members of the Chamber to attend the directors' meeting.

It's Voting Time

People Ponder, Politicians Plan

Citizens of the nation from coast to coast will go to the polls next Tuesday, November 6, to cast their ballots in the General Election. The results of which will determine who will be the president of this country for the next four years.

On the Republican ticket is Dwight D. Eisenhower, presidential candidate with Richard Nixon as his running mate. They are seeking reelection. Opposing them are Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver of the Democratic party, bitter rivals before the convention, but now united in their opposition to the Republicans.

No other event in American life equals these every four-year campaigns during which good friends often become bitter enemies (for the duration). But the partisan wounds will heal as they always do, no matter how vehement the pre-election strife has been. That's America.

California voters have the added task of voting for 19 state propositions. In this county there are an additional seven county bond measures to mark "yes" or "no", plus two amendments to the county charter.

A greater part of the Campbell area (there are 14 Campbell precincts) will also vote for a supervisor. The voters have four choices, Oran L. Slaght (incumbent); Fran[illegible] Barcells, Joe Santora and William Deal.

The Campbell area also falls inta two assembly districts. In the 29th, Bruce Allen (incumbent) faces William Harris, Jr., while in the 28th, Clyde Bradley, incumbent, battles Alan Isakson.

Congressman Charles Gubser meets the challenge of William Vatcher in the 10th Congressional District while U.S. Senator Thomas Kuchel fights it out with Richard Richards for United States Senator.

More than 150 youngtsers participated in the Hallowen Party on Wednesday night, sponsored jointly by the merchants of the Campbell Shopping Center (Winchester Rd. and Latimer) and the Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce. Red Feather Drive Moves Into Home Stretch With 52 Per Cent of Goal

The Campbell Red Feather Drive moved past the halfway point this week and into the home stretch with a $5559 total (as of yesterday) collected toward a $10,000 goal.

Howard Lillingston, chairman of the campaign in Campbell, announced that Campbell's 52 per cent of its goal is still less than the 64 over-all percentage reported thus far in the camaign throughout Central Santa Clara County.

Give The United Way

The County goal is $478,966.

Lillingston also pointed out that the $478,966 totail is the "absolute" operational minimum for the Red Feather agencies involved. According to Lillingston they actually need some $140,000 more to operate throughout the year.

Breakdown of the figures for Campbell are as follows: residential, $2605; business, 733; professional, $170; commerce and industry, $438 and schools $1591.

Last week Campbell Mayor John M. Chargin received a plaque for "service beyond the call of duty" for his activities in the campaign locally. A plaque was also awarded to the Twin Cities Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Campbell for employee participation in the appeal for funds. Dan MacDonald of Twin Cities accepted the award from Lillingston on behalf of the employees of the Company.

There will be another roundup of figures Friday of next week. The Drive is expected to end and have reached its goal by November 16, according to Lillingston.

Edward H. Ryan, overall campaign chairman, had "warm words of praise" for the Campbell area's volunteer workers and "generous" citizens. According to Lillingston, Ryan said also that "there is still a lot of money out that has not been picked up. We are striving toward complete coverage this year throughout the entire Central Santa Clara Valley."

High Flying Eagles Drop Bucs, 33-12

By Richard Ferguson

The high flying Eagles of Mountain View swooped down on the Campbell Bucs and set the Bucs back 33-12 at Mountain View last Friday night. By the victory, the Eagles moved into a temporary tie for second place with James Lick while Campbell dropped into a tie with Santa Clara for fourth place.

Campbell started off fast on a 57-yard play to Bud Scribner for a quick touchdown. The Eagles came back with some fine running by halfback John Escobar and Bob Nakamoto. Escobar hauled in a 24-yard pass from quarterback Jerry Volpe to score Mountain View's first touchdown.

The pigskin, which was very elusive because of earlier rain, slipped through the fingers of the Campbell receiver and the Eagles

Bucs Face League-Leading Fremont Here Tomorrow

Fremont plays host to the Campbell Buccaneers tomorrow night in one of the most crucial games of the 1956 season. Should Campbell win they will have a 2-1-1 league record while Fremont will emerge with a 3-1 record.

The Indians from Fremont are presently sitting on top of the SCVAL. Coach Ken Stanger's 1956 edition of Fremont's varsity is led by such stalwarts as Jay Shuirman, Jim Zamlick, Mike Ruiz and quarterback Nelson Dake. This foursome is rated as the best backfield in the league this season. Gary Moshandea and Dick Reyonds are the Indians only returning linemen.

Campbell's Buccaneers, defeated last week by Mountain View, will be trying to regain their prestige as a power in the SCVAL. Jim Corbus, sparkling quarterback for the Bucs, and Hector Cordova, stalwart in the line, will be the team captains for the league encounter. Other Bucs who will see plenty of action in the game include fullback Bud Scribner, center Ray Salvano, ends Frank Koontz and Jerry Chacon.

Bud Scribner, flashy fullback for the Campbell Bucs, is leading his teamates in total points with five touchdowns and four points after touchdowns for a total of 34 points. He has also the longest pass receive with a catch of 57 yards. Dave Alvarez and Jim Corbus follow in the score with a total of 13 points apiece. Alvarez also leads the ground gain average with 8.5 yards on 22 carries. Scribner has the most total yards gained with 252 yards.

Jim Corbus is leading in the pass department with a 50 percent batting average. Out of 36 attempts Corbus completed 18 passes for a total of 410 yards and 2 touchdowns. Frank Koontz is the usual receiver and received 14 passes for 366 yards and one TD.

Campbell Jayvees Lose to Lincoln

Campbell High Junior Varsity football team of Coach Wade Wilson lost by a score of 26 to 13 to Lincoln last Thursday. Trailing by 19 to 0 at the half, the JV Bucs closed the score to 19-7 in the third quarter but Lincoln put the clincher over in the same period. Campbell's final touchdown came late in the fourth quarter.

Bob Whitewing made the Buc's first touchdown, climaxing a drive with a 13 yard run. Don Womer ran the other TD over from 45 yards out. LeRoy States ran the PAT.

Coach Wilson singled out Don Womer and LeRoy States for their outstanding play, "Although everyone played hard," he added.

Starting line was: Pinkston and Jones at end; Walters and Morello at tackles; Tannehill and Fulller, guards; and Gallagher at center. The backfield consisted of Cole at QB, States and Flaherty as halfbacks, and Womer at fullback.

Buc Bees Sting Mountain View

Coach Hal Raley's Campbell High "B" football team defeated a strong Mountain View "B" squad 25 to 0 last Friday night.

The little Bucs leaped to a quick lead when they used a short kick off which Mountain View promptly fumbled and was pounced upon by Jim Omura. On the first scrimmage play of the game, Tom Perry shot through tackle for 35 yards and a touchdown. The conversion attempt was unsuccessful.

However, after MV didn't advance the ball, the Little Bucs drove 70 yards in 5 plays to increase their lead to 13. Forty yards of the drive were taken in one chunk on a pass-lateral play to Tom Perry, who carried to the MV 10 yard line. Then Freshman back, Mac Bahl, plunged through for 10 yards and his first TD. Perry ran the conversion to give Campbell a 13 to 0 half-time lead.

Mountain View was further stunned when Ron Corbus took the second half kick off and ran it back 75 yards to the MV 10. Perry racked up his second TD of the evening to make the score 19 to 0.

Campbell's fourth score came after a fullback delay to Jerry Cooper advanced the pigskin 70 yards to the MV 15 yard line. Tom Perry took off around end, cut back and scored the final touchdown.

Coach Raley stated that if the boys show the same great team play and desire to win, they will give Fremont a hard time tomorrow night.

City Officials in State Gather in L.A. for 58th Annual Conference

The impact of the new federal highway system on cities of California, the State Water Plan, the progress of the new uniform sales tax program, trends in business license taxes, the relationship of business and municipal government, and the challenge of growth inside and outside cities were subjects before the 58th annual conference of the League of California Cities, held in Los Angeles this week. The Biltmore Hotel was headquarters for the event.

All five Campbell City Councilmen, Mayor John M. Chargin, Richard Morton, Charles Rose, Myron Fairchild and Charles Schmidt, were among the approximately 2800 persons who attended the conference. At last year's conference in San Francisco there were 2736 registered delegates and guests. Sixteen new cities have been incorporated in California within the past year, and a total of 27 new cities have been formed in the state since 1950. There are now 332 incorporated cities in California, and delegates attended from at least 275 of them. Every city in the state is a member of the League.

Mayors and councilmen, city managers, attorneys, finance officers, public works officers and city engineers, recreation and park directors, police chiefs, fire chiefs, planners and health officers participated in the program, with most of the work of the conference conducted in ten parallel sessions for the ten functional departments into which the League is organized to serve these officials. Each group had its own program in three sessions, plus two general assemblies for all delegates.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight was the luncheon speaker on Wednesday. State Senator Randolph Collier explained what the expanded federal highway program means to California cities, and M. J. Shelton, deputy director of the State Department of Water Resources discussed California's water plan. Other general session speakers were Attorney General Edmund G. Brown; Charles S. Rhyne from Washington, D. C., general counsel of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers; Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles; Frank E. Cox, of the Kawneer Co., Berkeley; City Manager O. W. Campbell of San Diego, League president; and Richard Carpenter, Berkeley, League executive director.

Thomas Mitchell, motion picture star and "Mayor of the Town" on television, was a special speaker at the annual Mayors and Councilmen's luncheon on Tuesday noon, before an audience in the Biltmore Bowl of approximately 1000 municipal legislative officers from all over the state.

The principal problems of California cities discussed at these sessions related primarily to the continued and enormous municipal growth, and the need for expanded facilities. The metropolitan area problem is as acute in California as anywhere in the country, and this includes mass transit, planning, off-street parking, and to some lesser extent, urban renewal. Internally, California cities are having serious difficulty with respect to the employment and retention of competent professional and technical personnel.

The Board of Directors is composed of one member from each one of the ten functional departments, and one from each of the 13 regional divisions, representing all parts of the state; and Mayor Poulson of Los Angeles and Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco.

City Manager O. W. Campbell of San Diego is League president; Mayor Theodore Merian of Chico is first vice-president; and Mayor Poulson of Los Angeles is second vic-president.

District Learns $172,500 Needed For School Site

The site for the proposed Parkway Grammar School will cost $172,500 the Campbell Union Elementary School District was told last Friday by the Superior Court.

The 17.35-acre site is located between Pruneridge Ave. and the Stevens Creek Road. The acreage, improved with a prune orchard, was asked to be condemned by the school district. The property is owned by Saratoga Road resident, Mrs. Anna Perlinda.

Mrs. Perlinda's appraisers fixed a minimum value of $173,500 and a maximum of $208,200 on the site. School district appraisers estimated the value from a low $105,000 to a high of $109,500.

The land is zoned for residential purposes. Mrs. Perlinda claimed that it has a commercial value because other nearby lands have been zoned for commercial uses.

The $172,500 price will be submitted to the State Allocations Board for approval. It will meet late next month.

The new school will handle grades from the kindergarten to the sixth. It is expected to be completed by September of next year. It will consist of 10 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a multi-purpose room and administration offices.

According to C. E. Bradley, business manager of the school district, the $172,500 cost will ultimately be cut when the County purchases a strip of land through which the San Tomas Parkway will be laid. The District plans to use only 10 acres of the 17. An overpass will be built across the parkway.

Bradley estimates that the Parkway will take a little more than four acres. If the District can sell the remaining three, Bradley pointed out, the cost to the District will be cut appreciably.

The new school will alleviate crowded conditions at Cypress School and the undesireability of having children cross the Stevens Creek Road to get to school.

Be sure to Vote November 6

GO TEAM GO . . . Campbell High School's vivacious cheerleaders get set for tomorrow night's Buccaneer-Fremont game at Sunnyvale. The girls will be out directing the yells of students at the game. They urge adults who attend the game to yell too, but to follow the cheerleaders when they do. Don't yell when the team is in a huddle or at the line calling signals. Even one missed signal can mean the game, according to Gail Gerlach, fourth from left in the above photo. From left to right the other cheerleaders are, Donna Whitaker, Pat O'Brien, (head cheerleader), Lina Michi, Miss Gerlach and Julie Gallagher. The Buccaneer's record this season is three wins one loss and one tie. The Varsity game begins at 6 o'clock tomorrow night. Watch for the gals.

Campbell's Growth Emphasizes Need Of Proposition 3

Campbell's steadily increasing population, which has grown to approximately 11,000 people since the 1953 count of 7,000, causes this community to have an important stake in the proposed state building consruction program which will be submitted to voters as Proposition 3 on next Tuesday.

This was pointed out by George Burchill, San Jose realtor and regional chairman for the citizens' committtee endorsing the measure.

"Campbell's population increase is indicative of the enormous postwar growth experienced by the state of California," Burchill explains. He describes as "the greatest human migration in history" the rush of new residents to California that began at the end of World War II.

As a result, according to Burchill, the state has almost doubled its population within the past 20 years, causing tremendous overcrowding in the state's educational, correctional, mental health, youth authority and other institutions.

Proposition 3 is designed to relieve this overcrowding and provide funds for minimum building needs for a five-year program of expanding and developing state institutions, the regional chairman points out.

Burchill urges Campbell voters to consider the measure as almost a "local one", since $43 million of the $200 million bond issue funds sought will be used in Santa Clara County.

"Institutions right 'in our own back yard' will be affected by the measure, including San Jose State College, Agnews State Hospital and Lick Observatory," he explains.

Writing Analyst Talks To Rotary

Campbell Rotary Club members heard handwriting analyst C. F. Cole speak on "The Key to Human Relations," at their meeting in the IOOF Hall Monday at noon.

Cole is from the School of "Graphoanalysis", Santa Clara. Len Baptist was chairman for the meeting.

Some of the noteworthy things that Cole told members of the Rotary were: Persons who cross their "T's" above the letter are residing on "cloud nine."

People who write extraordinarily small, according to Cole, are usually persons who wish for recognition.

He alarmed Rotary members, and caused many furtive glances, when he said, watch out for a person whose "O's" or "A's" are not completely circled—they may murder you someday.

The Rev. Herbert Neale will address the Rotary next week. He will speak on his observations of life behind the Iron Curtain, gathered last summer on the study tour he took to the Soviet Union. Les Harmon is chairman.

Jim Craig, San Jose State center, is also an outfielder on the Spartan diamond squad.

FRanklin Phones Go Nationwide Dial Saturday

Nationwide direct distance dialing starts at 11 o'clock Saturday night for persons with FRanklin 8 telephone numbers.

A miracle of electronics, it means that FRanklin 8 customers can dial their own calls to hundreds of cities and towns in California and across the United States.

Nationwide dialing is already available to telephone customers in the area having ANdrews or ESSex numbers.

Pacific Telephone Manager T. K. Nordheim explained that direct distance dialing is made possible by electronic equipment that connects the call, keeps track of how far it went and how long it lasted, and then adds up the charges.

All the caller has to do is spin the dial a few extra times. Nordheim said detailed dialing instructions have been mailed to the FRanklin 8 customers along with a list of many of the dialable points.

But he gave this brief rundown on how to dial a long distance call from FRanklin 8 numbers only:

1. Check to see if the community is dialable. Even if it's not on the list, it may be dialable. An operator will be glad to help. However, unless the number you want to call has a prefix name and five numerals, (such as those here) it cannot be dialed directly.

2. Dial the numbers 1-1-2. This channels the call into the special long distance equipment.

3. Then dial an area code number. These numbers will be supplied to FRanklin 8 customers. By dialing the code number, the call is sent to the particular part of the country called.

4. Then dial the regular telephone number. The call will be connected in a matter of moments.

For FRanklin 8 customers, an operator will come on the line to ask the number of your own telephone. That is, the one from which the call is being placed.

Nordheim pointed out that the direct distance dialing system for FRanklin 8 differs slightly from those with ANdrews and ESsex numbers.

For ANdrews and Essex there is no need to dial the numerals 1-1-2, nor does an operator ask for your own number. The difference is due to a different type of dialing equipment.

Paul Becker, 1525 San Gabriel Way, one of the residents who had signed the citizens' petition, and whose home is not in the extended zone, accused the school administration of being "impolite" and "crude". He feels that the new extension is an improvement, but not enough of one.

Passage of County Bonds Provide Best Answer to Building Shortage

Best solution of Santa Clara County's problem of shortage of building space is the passage of the county bond measures in the general election next Tuesday, November 6, it is agreed by civic, business and labor leaders.

The county will have to construct the buildings in some way, even if the bonds are not passed, a sub-committee of the Citizens Committee for bonds concluded last week following a tour of the overcrowded and inadequate present facilities.

Urges "Yes" Vote

Urging a "yes" vote on the measures are volunteer workers and committee members in this area and communities over the county. Mayor John M. Chargin heads the Citizens Committee working for the bonds in the Campbell area.

The seven county bond measures that total $7,115,000 have been endorsed by the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association, Santa Clara County Central Labor Council, Building and Construction Trades Council, San Jose Chamber of Commerce, Santa Clara County Contractors and Home Builders Association, Santa Clara County Employees Association, Santa Clara County Bar Association, San Jose Realty Board and many other organizations in the county.

Figures compiled by the County Taxpayers Association show that the total program would cost the average taxpayer about $40 if paid for by direct taxes. If paid for by bonds, the cost to the average homeowner would be only $25.

The Citizens Committee conducting an intensive campaign to reach every voter in the county is headed by George B. Myren. Members of the special sub-committee which toured and inspected present county facilities were Joe E. Levitt, San Jose broadcasting company executive; Hall Jacobs, banker; Arnold Mercer, insurance man; Wilfred Steele, motor company official; Kurt Gross, San Jose architect, and Walter L. Jones, president of the Central Labor Council.

"It is the intention of our committee to give our fellow citizens of the county all factual information we can assemble," Myren said.

Seven Measures

He briefed volunteer workers on the seven bond measures as follows:

1. $2,825,000 for county offices and service buildings to be built on county-owned land at the Civic Center.
2. $450,000 for a Chronic Nursing Unit at the County Hospital. This will save the county money and will give better care to aged and chronically ill patients.
3. $1,200,000 for a new Juvenile Hall at Civic Center. Deplorable conditions in present Juvenile Hall give real urgency to this project to provide modern rehabilitative facilities.
4. $180,000 for addition to County Health Dept. Building to house Sanitation Division, Vector (Mosquito and Insect) Control and Occupational Health Services. This is important to the health of all residents of our County.
5. $835,000 for a North County Judicial and Office Building in Palo Alto on a county-owned site. An urgently needed and long delayed project.
6. $350,000 for a Communications Building serving all county departments and all communities; includes Area Civil Defense Control Center.
7. $1,275,000 for the purchase of additional land at the Civic Center, at the County Hospital and at the North County Building site. Steadily rising land costs make this extremely good business to acquire needed land now.

Driver Education Aims For Safety

Safety through education is the basic concept of the driver education and driver training course being taught currently at Campbell and Camden high schools.

The course aims to biuld proper attitudes toward safety, and seeks to secure a reduction in traffic accidents through knowledge of traffic laws. It points out the causes of accidents and their seriousness.

The State requires not less than 30 hours of classroom driver education and a voluntary six to 18 hours of observation in driver training, plus a minimum of six hours "behind the wheel" in a dual-controlled car. Camden and Campbell students are required to have one full semester of driver education before graduation.

Driver education cars are constantly in use at the two schools throughout the day. The student is given driving instruction in as many typical driving situations as possible.

recovered the kick on the 37-yard line of Campbell. Campbell came back to gain the ball on stubborn line defense. Held to three yards by the Eagles strong line Mike Profit was forced to kick on his own 15 yard line. The pigskin proved too slippery for Profit as the ball slithered through his hands only to be pounced on by the rushing Eagle linemen. The first quarter ended with the score 14-6 in Mountain View's favor.

Second String Holds

In the second quarter the second string of Campbell helped the Bucs hold the Eagles to only one touchdown. Jim Henry and Ken Buran carried the ball for Campbell on several occasions. The Eagles finally found paydirt late in the quarter when Ken Hoshi skirted right end for 28 yards to the Campbell 4 yard line to set up a line plunge for the score. The half ended with Mountain View ahead 21-6. Bud Scribner and Hec Cordova were the stalwarts on the Campbell defense with many a touchdown drive stopped short of the mark.

Eagle ingenuity helped them raise the score in the third quarter on some beautiful screen plays. The touchdown was scored when the Eagle line opened up letting the Campbell line almost reach the quarterback who quickly passed to his wide open receiver who promply skirted the end for a TD. Campbell began to get down to business late in the third quarter and penetrated the Eagles territory to the 15 yard line before being stopped. Mountain View failed to make any headway as the quarter ended with the score 27-6.

Starts With Bang

Mountain View started the third quarter off with a bang by scoring a touchdown on a 13 yard run by Ken Hoshi. Campbell began to look like the club they actually are late in the final quarter when Bud Scribner cut loose for an end run of 38 yards. Buran and Scribner combined to set the ball down on the Eagle 1 yard line where Corbus plunged over for the final score of the game.

Spartans, Denver Meet Saturday in Homecoming Game

Hoping a return to surroundings will bring a change in fortunes, San Jose State entertains Denver at Sparton Stadium Saturday in a Homecoming game starting at 8:30 p.m.

The Spartans, who were nearly demolished by Arizona State, 47-13, last week, have not played at home since the opening game of the season and have not won since that opener. Overall, San Jose has won one, tied one and lost three. Denver has won three and lost four.

In their first meeting with the Pioneers, the Spartans will have to mend a leaky ground defense which reached an all time low against the hard running Arizona State club last week. The Sun Devils roared for 429 yards on the ground, the most ever amassed by a Spartan opponent. Meanwhile Denver gained nearly 300 yards on the ground last week, indicating another rough time Saturday for Spartan defenders.

The game will match two fine aerial games, with both teams featuring passing by both quarterbacks. The Spartans, ranked third in the nation in passing offense, will be paced by Quarterback Bob Reinhart, the nation's second ranking passer who has completed 61 passes in 111 attempts for 781 yards and seven touchdowns. Denver's Al Yanowich, also nationally ranked, has completed 35 out of 70 for 430 yards and four scores.

Halfbacks Johnny Wilson and George Colbert paced the Pioneers running attack and Colbert is also a dangerous passer who has thrown two touchdown passes. Wilson has picked up 377 yards in 70 carries, while Colbert has gained 336 yards in 50 carries, an average of 6.7 per carry.

This intersectional tilt also matches three of the top pass receivers in the nation in the Spartans' Art Powell, who has grabbed 18 aerials for 333 yards and two touchdowns, and the Pioneers' Wilson, 17 receptions for 251 yards, and Ernie Pitts, 17 receptions for 239 yards.

The first forest fire observation tower in the United States was built and manned by a lumber company in Maine in 1905.

Because of its many and widely separated hills, the water supply system of San Francisco is one of the most complex of any large city in the world.

Campbell PTA Launches New Type Program

In keeping with their goal of better understanding of adolescent young people and provide an ever closer tie between the home and school, Campbell Elementary School's P.T.A. meeting next Wednesday will launch the year's program with small discussion groups where parents can get together in small groups to discuss various problems that confront both parents and their teen age youngsters.

In order to learn what parents 7th and 8th graders want from P. T. A., last year's board "kept their ears to the ground" and came up with the following answers: They want to know the teachers better; they want to get to know the parents of the new friends their children are making, and they want to discuss the behavior to expect of their child at this age.

Their findings sparked this year's program whereby parents can meet parents of children in the same room, as well as the teacher, to discuss what to expect from their children and what children should expect from them on matters, such as choice of friends, money management, parties and dating, and many other questions

When the meeting begins in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m., the program will start with a skit, "Everybody's Doin' It", depicting a typical evening of a family which includes a 7th grade girl and 8th grade boy, with points brought out in the skit which will "kickoff" discussion for the evening when members re-assemble in small groups. Ed Miller will direct the skit with the following cast: Mrs. Maxwell Simkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gardner, Mrs. Chris Miller, A. S. Bonaccorso and Ralph Dill.

Mrs. Chris Miller is parent education chairman, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Royce, Mrs. A. A. Barshow, Mrs. C. Maurice Johnson and Mrs. Steven Anderson.

Following volunteer group leaders, who have been briefed on how to conduct small discussion groups, will take part in the year's program: Mrs. Carl R. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Balgooyen, Dr. and Mrs. William Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Thayer Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Salituri, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. West, Earl Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Findley.

Garden Club to Hold 'Autumn Curtain Call' Flower Show Next Wednesday

With the theme "Autumn Curtain Call" the Campbell Garden Club will present their annual standard flower show next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 in the First Methodist Church of Campbell, 315 N. Winchester Road.

Publicity chairman for the Club, Mrs. H. G. Blohm, pointed out this week that the show is open to everyone—not just members of the Garden Club. Everyone should "fix up a pretty arrangement, or bring their finest specimen of flower or plant" Mrs. Blohm said. There is no admission fee for entries.

The show will be divided into 18 classes. There will be a novice division, an intermediate division and a professional.

Awards are as follows: First prize, blue ribbon; second prize, red ribbon; third prize, white ribbon; and for honorable mention, a yellow ribbon.

Song titles from popular musical plays will be the subjects for the flower arrangements.

Chrysanthemums and other fall flowers will be featured in the show. Points of judging are for color, stem, foliage, fullness, form, substance and size.

There will be a special section for arrangements by men.

President of the Garden Club, Mrs. Fred H. Smith, announced the following committees; Mesdames J. D. Leavy, Norm Corvello, T. F. Mahaffey, F. J. Seymour, Tom Totaro, Charles White, J. P. Aversente and Joseph Stokes, staging; Mrs. Charles Smith, judges; Mrs. Lloyd Brown, awards; Mesdames R. M. Dunn, A. M. Johnson, Julius Langlo, A. F. Leal and Gordon Taylor, arrangements; Mesdames Stanis Rohde, C. A. Drake, C. C. Gilliam, Monica Parr, Arthur Smith and M. S. Walsh, specimens; Mesdames E. R. Miller, R. M. Dunn and Gordon Taylor, clerks.

Parents Meet at School For 'Open House'

A capacity crowd attended the first meeting of the Rosemary Home and School Club recently, which was an "open house" for parents at the school.

A business meeting was conducted at the time by newly elected president, Ed Kolstad. Audio visual equipment was demonstrated by Rosemary School Principal, Tony Van Laarhoven. He was assisted in the demonstration by two faculty members, Jim D'avis and Ernie Ellis.

Cub scouts representing Pack 75 (Campbell) presented the colors at the meeting following the "open house." The Pack's cubmaster is Del Blomquist.

Following the meeting refreshments were served in the autumn motif.

At the 49'er ball game together in San Francisco last Sunday were Rotarians Bob Culo, Doc Arends, Don Witzel, Mario Saia, George Miskulin, Bob Jasmine and Homer Hyde. Report has it that Homer was somewhat disturbed by the antics of an unnamed fan, who besides booting him in the back throughout the game, poured coffee down the back of his neck.

RITES AT VISTA UNITE PAIR . . . Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. James Spillman leave church following their recent wedding at Vista Community Church. The new Mrs. Spillman is the former Miss Barbara Godwin of Vista.

James R. Spillman Of Campbell Weds Barbara Godwin

Vista Community Church in Vista, California was the setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Jeanne Godwin and James Raydin Spillman of Campbell recently.

Masses of white gladioli and tapers of "angel blue" in tall candelabra set the color scheme for the wedding.

The bride wore an antique taffeta gown made along princess lines with a "V" neckline for the ceremony. It was trimmed with Alencon lace and embroidered with pearls. She carried a pearl embossed Bible with a bouquet of bouvardia phaelenopsis orchids.

The bride's mother wore a gown of coral crystaline with brown accessories and a corsage of brown orchids. The bridegrooms mother wore a pink gown of blue arnel with pink accessories and a catalaya orchid.

Misses Joan Elizabeth and Janis Pauline Montesano of Campbell served as flower girls. They were dressed in the same colors as the bride, and carried baskets of flowers, the petals of which they scattered in the bride's path.

The bride was born in Vista and graduated from high school there. She met her husband while attending San Jose State College. She is the daughter of the late Arden W. Godwin and Mrs. Godwin of Vista.

Heart Association Needs Volunteers

The Santa Clara County Heart Association issued an "urgent" call this week for volunteers needed to work in preparing a research project.

According to Dr. Leon P. Fox, president of the association, the association is participating in a pilot study to determine the incidence of hemolytic streptococcal infections in this area and what part it plays in the occurence of rheumatic fever.

It is believed that strep infection acts as a sort of time-bomb that sets off rheumatic fever in a susceptible person.

Also interested in the local study are a number of County pediatricians, and Dr. Dwight M. Bissel, San Jose city health officer.

Persons who are available to work full-time, or even for a few hours a week, are asked to contact Heart Association Headquarters, 461 Porter Bldg., San Jose—CY 4-8779.

Highschoolers See 'Madame Butterfly'

Sixty-nine members of the Campbell High School Choir and orchestra journeyed to the War Memorial Opera House in San Francisco recently to attend an afternoon performance of "Madame Butterfly."

Accompanying the students were Miss Kathleen Bull, dean of girls, and Frank Triena, music teacher.

The group had lunch at the Clinton Cafeteria.

The leading role was played by Dorothy Kirsten. Many of the students had never before attended an opera. According to student Judy Harris, the group was "quite impressed by the beautiful scenes and excellent acting."

Quick and Easy Party Pie

There's no extra work to make a banana cream pie party-style when you use vanilla pudding and pie filling mix. A dream to prepare and a joy to eat, this luscious dessert with its toasty coconut crust and creamy banana filling will delight even the most hard-to-please guests.

Banana Delight Coconut Pie

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
1 baked 8-inch Quick Coconut Crust
1 cup sliced bananas (2 bananas)
Cinnamon
½ cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon sugar

Combine pie filling mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool only about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Pour half of pie filling into coconut crust. Cover with layer of sliced bananas. Add remaining pie filling. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Chill. Just before serving, whip cream, sweeten with sugar, and spread over top of pie.

Quick Coconut Crust. Spread 2 tablespoons soft butter evenly on bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan. Sprinkle 1½ cups shredded coconut in pan, pressing evenly into the butter. Bake in slow oven (300°F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool.

Oran L. Slaght
Man For Job

Oran L. Slaght, an incumbent board member appointed to the unexpired term of the late Joseph M. McKinnon, is best qualified in light of the responsibilites of today's Board of Supervisors.

The News is recommending Slaght for election on the basis of the experience in financing, and community responsibility he can bring to the board.

Santa Clara County is big business. Its budget this year is 34 million dollars; it is asking voter approval now of over 7 million dollars in improvement bonds.

Slaght can give the board a keen mind trained in hard, intelligent financial procedure, and one alert to the economic past and future of Santa Clara County.

His devotion to the county is deeply rooted and has been nourished through the years by active participation in such organizations as the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, the American Red Cross, the San Jose Chamber of Commerce and the several financial and fraternal groups of which he has been a member and an officer.

Today's board is made up of men with experience in ranching and education, insurance and realty, transportation, and in business.

To round out the overall thinking of the board as a whole by drawing a man from the hard, financial world makes good sense. His thinking will add immeasureably to the monumental broad task of keeping thinking directed to the good of the county and its residents.

On the basis of his professional experience in the matters of financing, his known busines ability and his willingness to dedicate himself to the future of Santa Clara County The News recommends a "Yes" vote for Oran L. Slaght in the Fourth Supervisorial District.

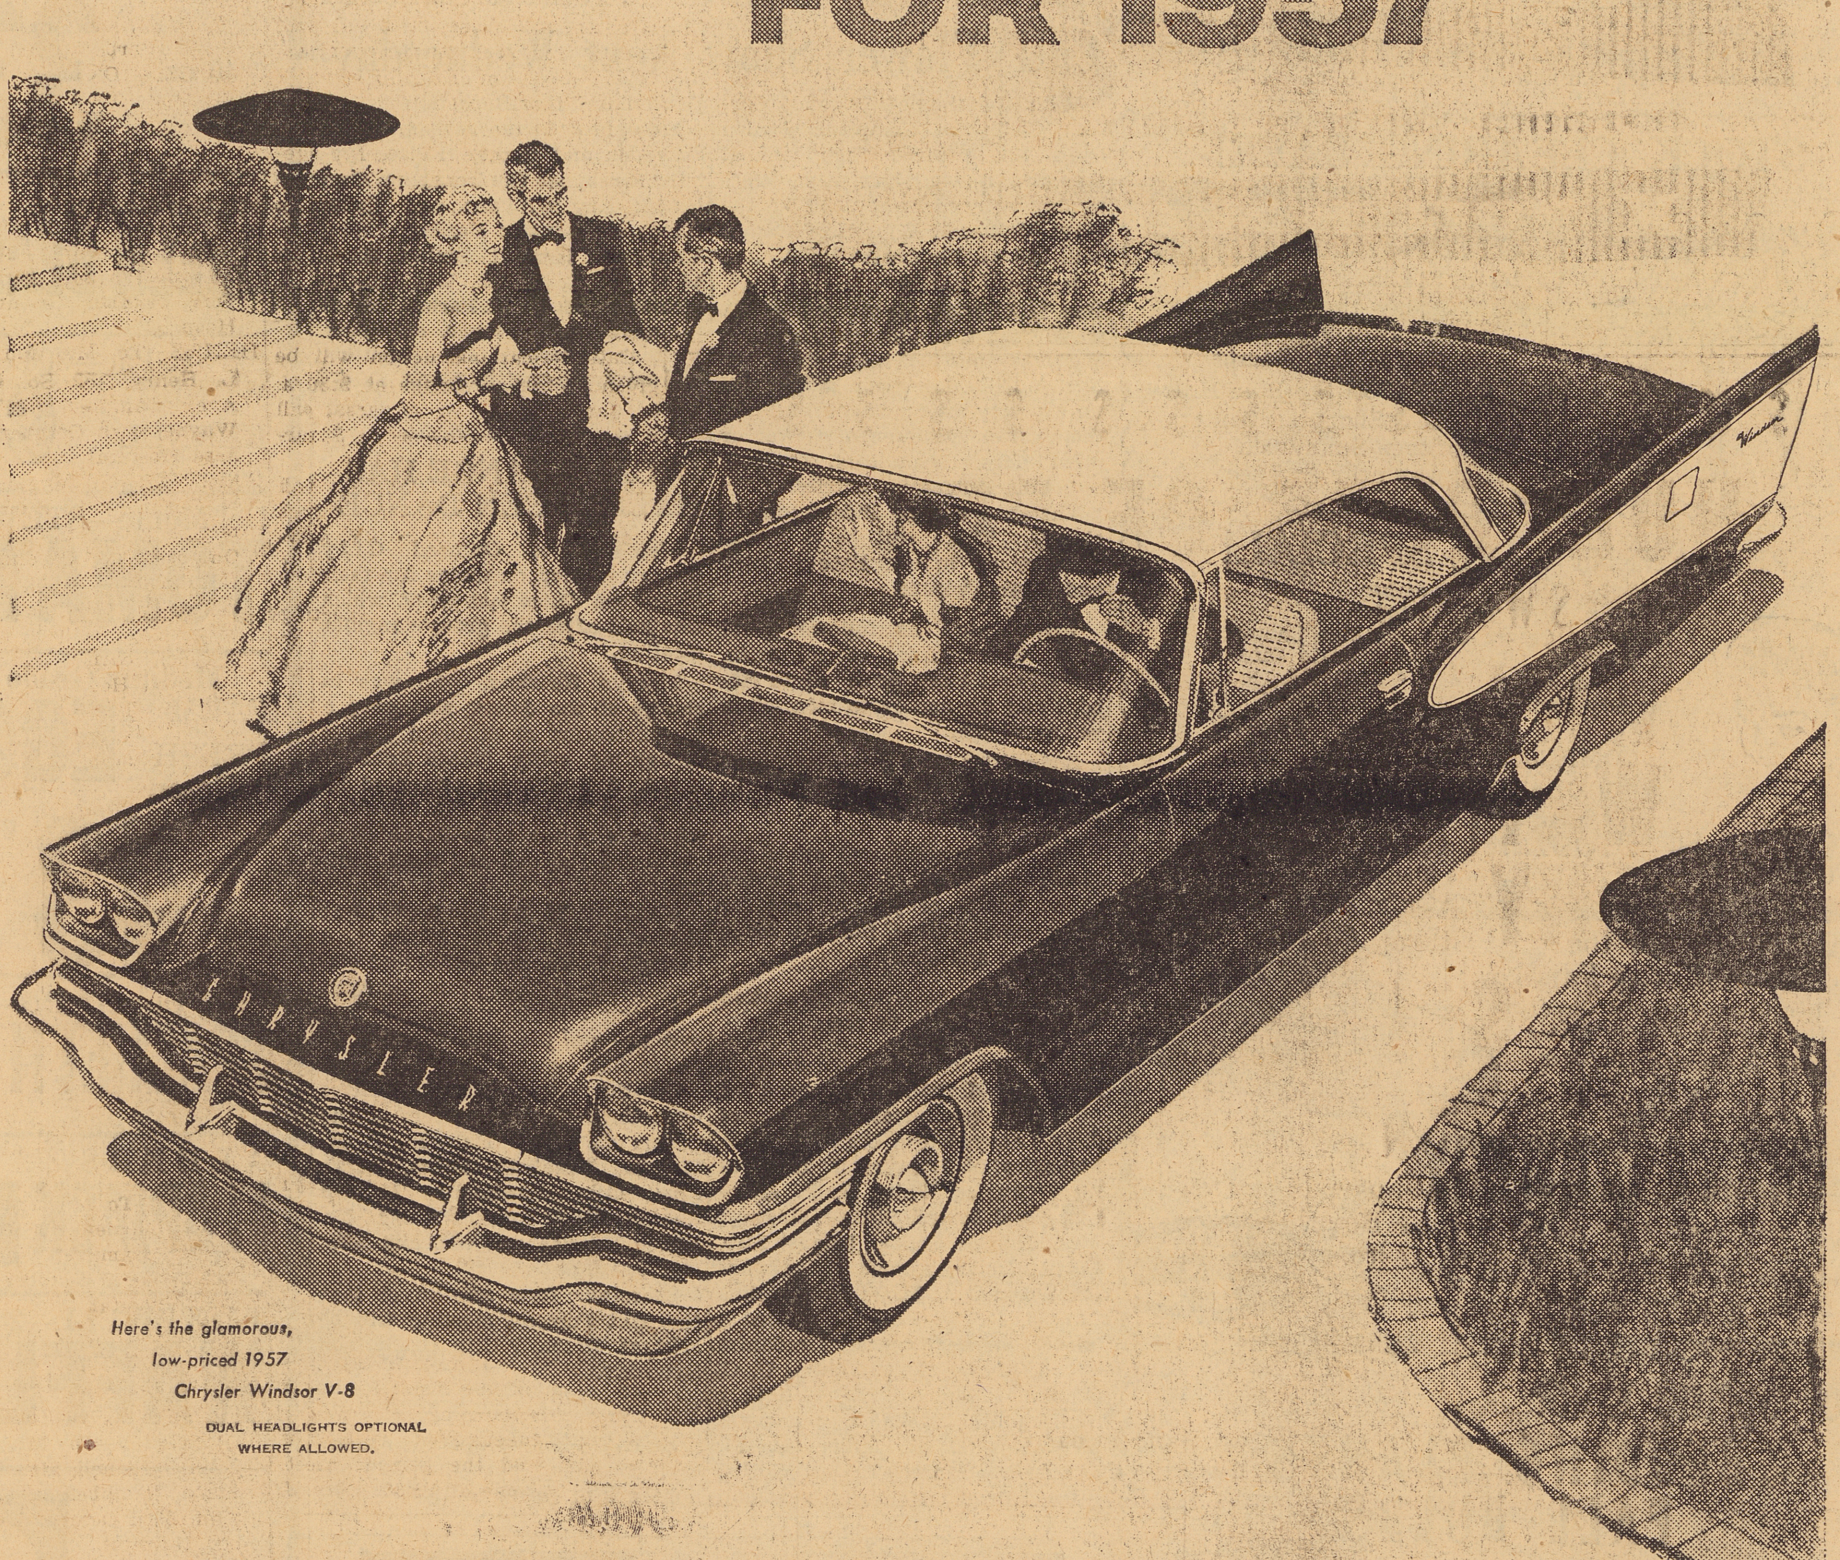
THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

FOR 1957



Here's the glamorous,
low-priced 1957
Chrysler Windsor V-8

DUAL HEADLIGHTS OPTIONAL
WHERE ALLOWED.

Announcing the most glamorous car in a generation!

You never looked or felt as good in anything before!

Other cars have changed models . . . this one changes motoring. Look at its rich, racy lines . . . at the long, low silhouette . . . at the dramatic upsweep of the rear fenders that plume back from the waist like the wake of a hydroplane. It's a streak of a car with the elegance of the boulevard and the spirit of the speedway.

Get into this car, drive it into traffic or out on the open highway and you enter a new domain of travel. In the 1957 Chrysler, with its new Torsion-Aire Ride, motion has a new "feel". And wait till you toe the throttle. A new Pushbutton TorqueFlite Transmission teams with a mighty airplane-type V-8 engine, developing up to 325 horsepower, to give you a new high-velocity getaway, matchless passing power when you need it.

Come in this week and visit our showrooms. See and drive the most completely new car of the year!

Torsion-Aire Ride
pours the road under you!

Try Chrysler's new Torsion-Aire Ride and you'll think some of the laws of gravity, motion and inertia have been suspended in your favor. No more rock and roll. No more pitch when you stop. Chrysler's new torque rod suspension and lower center of gravity give you a brand new ground-skimming "feel" of the road. The wheels ride the contours . . . but you don't. The road just pours under you.

Best Seller For A Bake Sale!

Everybody likes homemade sweet rolls and coffeecake. Think about that when your church or PTA group is planning its next bake sale. Wrapped in cellophane and tied with a bright bow, this fruit-filled tea ring is irresistible. It's easy to make, yet glamorous looking and delicious eating.

One package of Hot Roll Mix makes two regular size tea rings or this large party-size ring. Customers will make your tea ring the best seller of the bake sale and you'll ring up a fine profit for your organization.

APRICOT TEA RING

1 package Pillsbury Hot Roll Mix
2 cups drained cooked dried apricots, chopped
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar

Prepare plain or richer dough and let rise according to Hot Roll Mix instructions.

Combine apricots, lemon juice, cinnamon and sugar in saucepan. Simmer until thick, stirring occasionally. Cool.

Divide dough in half. Roll out one half on floured board to a 14x12-inch rectangle. Spread with filling mixture. Roll as for jelly roll, starting with 14-inch side. Seal well. Shape into a ring on greased baking sheet, sealing ends. With scissors, cut two thirds through the ring at 1-inch intervals around outer edge. Turn each cut piece on its side. Cover. Repeat with remaining dough and filling. Let rise in warm place. Bake at 375° F. 20 to 25 minutes. Drizzle Vanilla Glaze over warm tea rings. Garnish with chopped nuts, if desired.

Vanilla Glaze

Heat together 1½ tablespoons milk and 1 tablespoon butter over low heat until butter melts. Remove from heat. Blend in 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth.

Hint to Bake-Sale Chairman: Stimulate extra enthusiasm by asking a number of ladies to bake their favorite rolls or coffeecake from Hot Roll Mix. (Or use any of the 25 suggestions in Ann Pillsbury's leaflet found in each box.) Award a blue ribbon for the most tempting creation.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Hurry with all gardening activities such as soil preparation, bulb and shrub planting. The winter rains will soon interfere with most garden chores.
2. Cool weather bedding plants such as baby primrose, pansies, violas, calendula, stock and snap dragons can be planted now.
3. This is the time to give the garden a fall cleanup spray.
4. Mulch Rhododendron, Camellias and Azalias with Oak Leaf Mold.
5. A pre-winter application of balanced fertilizer will benefit most lawns.

Pyracanthas

Because the Pyracanthas family can be espaliered, used as ground covers, or hedges, these shrubs with the bright fall and winter berries are a well-know favorite throughout California.

Also known as Firethorn, the Pyracantha is hardy throughout the state. Some 15 forms have been developed and are available to home gardeners, advises the California Association of Nurserymen.

The hardiest Pyracantha species is the coccinea; it grows as a rounded bush to eight or ten feet or climbs to 20 feet against a wall. White flowers bloom in early spring and red berries ap pear in November. Varieties Government Red with bright red berries, and Lalandi, growing to 20 feet with orange berries, are offsprings of the Coccinea. The species crenato-serrata generally grows in a more prostrate fashion and seldom reaches higher than six feet but spreads to ten feet. Its orange to coral berries last the winter through. Adapted to espalier training, the variety Graberi, of crenato-serrata, produces scarlet berries in large clusters; Santa Cruz variety is a dense, prostrate shrub which can be kept to two feet in height and spreads to six feet or more. It offers spring flowers and fall red berries.

Another Pyracantha species that makes a good espalier subject is the Koidzumii or formosana. It quickly grows to ten feet in height and spreads to eight feet but it can easily be held at any height. Large scarlet berries are borne on the shrub from November to February. A variety of the Koidzumii is the Stribling. It will reach 15 feet and spread to 12 feet. Its pendulous branches carry clusters of red berries the length of the branches.

The large Pyracantha family also includes some six horticultural varieties of unknown parentage. including Rosedale, good for espaliering; Victory, with dark red berries at Christmas time; and San Jose, wide spreading with scarlet berries.

In addition to offering a wide selection of berry color and bush form the Pyracantha is an advantageous bush to plant for other reasons. It tolerates neglect, re quiring no special cultural care. Grow it in full sun and prune by pinching to direct the growth of the plant. When pruning branches, remember that berries are produced on second year wood, the branches that have berried should be cut back to laterals rather than cutting off both new and old wood.

If you choose to grow your Pyracantha as an espalier subject you can plant it against a wall or against a trellis. Use the low-growing Pyrancanthas as ground covers in rough areas or over hilly places. The tall, wide spreading varieties planted in rows make fine hedges.

Next time you're visiting your nurseryman pick out some of these handsome Pyracantha species and varieties. Remember, for winter time berry color the Pyracantha is one of the finest shrubs.

Mahonias

In its native or non-native forms the Mahonia is a handsome evergreen shrub that can be widely and attractively planted throughout the state. Every species of Mahonia combines well for mass garden plantings, makes interesting solo planting or can be set to contrast strikingly against brick, redwood and other modern western architectural material.

In all parts of the state except the Sierra foothills, the lomariaefolia species of the Mahonia grows hardily. In times, it becomes a good sized multiple trunk shrub, 10 to 12 feet in height, with clusters of yellow flowers in early spring followed by bluish berries. Once rarely cultivated, the lomariaefolia is now more available, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Plant it in the half shade of a doorway or patio or in a garden with a low-growing plant beneath it. Mahonia Bealei, like lomariaefolia, is a non-native mem ber of the Mahonia family and it too grows well throughout the state. A tree-like shrub, the Bealei reaches 12 feet with broad grayish-green foliage, yellow spring flowers and bluish berries. This Mahonia is very effective planted against a window or glass wall where one can look at the garden through its branches.

Native Mahonia are led in popularity by Mahonia Aquifolium, the Oregon Grape. It grows native throughout northern California in an erect, freely branching style from one to ten feet in height. Its leaves are glossy green and often change to a red shade, especially in fall. There are yellow flowers in spring and bluish gray berries. Young growth on the shrub is ruddy or bonze. Mahonia Aquifolium will adapt to any exposure or soil, sun or shade. It is most effective planted in foundation masses. The Mahonia pinnata is called California Grape and resembles the Oregon except it will tolerate more heat and drought. The Longleaf Mahonia (M. nervosa), Nevin (M. nevinii) and Desert (M. fremontii) are also good looking members of this shrub family.

The New Dutch Iris

Lovely, lovelier, loveliest — the Dutch Iris, already described as orchid-like, is now more beautiful than ever with the recent introduction of new blossom colors--bronze, orange, orchid and olive green, added to the established yellow, blues and whites.

Dutch Iris are the modern descendants of the Spanish and North African Iris, named Dutch because they were hybridized in Holland. They differ from the Bearded Iris in that their plant grows from bulb and not a rhizome. Like their relatives, the Dutch Iris are not demanding—in fact, they are quite easy to grow. Give them a place in half day or whole day sun. If you plant them in light soil leave the bulbs in several years before you take up and divide, but if you garden in heavy soils, better not leave the bulbs in longer than a year or two, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen.

Lovely in the garden, Dutch Iris are lovelier still as cut flowers. In cutting, leave two or three leaves and about six inches of stem above the top of the bulb so it will have food for the next blooming season. Pick the flowers just after they have unfurled. If kept in a cool room with a daily change of water, they'll last for days.

When you make your Dutch Iris selections at your local nurseryman's, you'll have difficulty in choosing—for the new Iris are numerous and beautiful. There are Blue Pearl with violet standards (standards are the petals that stand up) and bronze falls blotched in orange (the falls are the petals that droop over the side of the flower.) Bronze Beauty has blue standards, olive green falls with bright orange blotches. King Mauve has both the coloring and appearance of an orchid. White Pearl is all white though yellow blotches dot its falls. Le Mogol blooms with honey bronze standards, orange bronze falls touched with light orange blotches.

Homecoming Parade Set For Saturday

The climax of San Jose State College's "Homecoming Week" will be the annual homecoming parade to be held this Saturday along First Street in San Jose.

Colorful floats will carry out the theme "A Century of Spartan Sports." The College is celebrating its centennial year this school term.

Anna Beal, a sophomore from Davis, was selected this week as "Homecoming Queen". She will "rule over the campus" for the remainder of the centennial year.

Hundreds of Alumni are expected to be in town Saturday night to attend the San Jose-University of Denver football game at Spartan Stadium. Following the game, the Alumni Association will sponsor its annual fall reunion and dance at the Santa Clara County Fair's Exposition Hall.

Heard Around Campus

By Ken Hird

By Ken Hird

Last week a special issue of the Spartan Daily, official campus newspaper, went on sale to students. The issue, a "send home" affair, contained two pages of pictures and many features of campus life. Main purpose of this edition, the editor said, was to acquaint parents with San Jose State College. This edition was prepared by members of the local SDX chapter.

Last Thursday superintendents from all over the United States met at San Jose State College to take part in a week-long study of the possibilities and limitations of television as an aid to education.

Two groups of pupils are being used as "guinea pigs" in simulated classrooms where teachers are using television as a supplement to their teaching. These demonstrations are being conducted on the stage of the Speech and Drama Building. The classes, consisting of fifth and sixth grade students from San Jose schools, will be taught by their regular teachers.

Thomas Mitchell, TV's "Mayor of the Town", spoke to a full house in the Main Auditorium Monday, October 22, on what it takes to be a good actor.

Mitchell said his favorite part was in "Stagecoach", because of the atmosphere in which he played, but why not, since he received the Academy award for it!

Mitchell answered many questions from the audience and generally received many laughs for his comments and jokes along the way.

San Jose Stamp Club Holds Event On February 17

The annual San Jose Stamp Club "Philatelic Fiesta", which includes an exhibit and bourse, will be held Sunday, February 17, at the St. Claire Hotel in San Jose, according to Fred P. Hofman, 530 Briarwood Way, Campbell, publicity chairman.

Emphasis is to be made on quality of material instead of quantity, according to Walter Anderson, General Chairman of the Fiesta. Eighty frames will be on exhibit from the San Jose Club in addition to ten frames from the Hollister, California Stamp Club.

Philatelic prizes are to be given for the best in show, best junior exhibit and the most popular exhibit, the latter will be by vote of the visitors to the Fiesta. An auction of stamps and covers of special interest will be open to all collectors.

PGE Asks to Build Atom-Electric Unit

The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. last week filed an application with the California Public Utilities Commission to obtain permission to install a 5,000-kilowatt generator and related equipment at the Vallecitos Atomic Laboratory, now being constructed by General Electric near Pleasanton in Alameda County.

The unit will obtain its steam from a nuclear-fueled boiling-water type reactor, according to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co's. news bureau, and will produce the nation's first all-privately financed nuclear electric power by next year. The reactor is presently under construction at the Vallecitos site.

General Electric and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. engineers will operate the power plant and atomic experts will operate the unit to give them experience in advance for the building of a 180,000-kilowatt nuclear plant near Chicago.

EDITORIAL

We Favor "Yes" on All Seven

On the ballot next Tuesday is an imposing list of propositions and measures, in addition to the various candidates listed. In last week's issue The Campbell press presented its recommendations on the 19 state propositions on the ballot.

Naturally our recommendations were mixed "yes" and "no" jobs.

But on the seven county bond measures on the ballot Tuesday we favor a "yes" vote right down the line on all seven.

Our reasoning on this is quite simple:

It is well established that the county buildings are needed because of the tremendous growth of the county. In our opinion in face of what the future holds for this county never will there be a time when we can acquire the needed land and buildings for less money than now.

We believe that the job can be done cheaper by spreading payment out, permitting future assessed valuation to share the cost of the facilities needed.

There may be those who will argue that it is better to "pay-as-you-go" than to pay for the improvements by bonds over a period of years. "Pay-as-you-go" is all fine and dandy if your population is static but we do not feel it is fair to those who now live here to bear the entire freight of these facilities that will be used by those who will become residents of the county in years to come.

That is why the Press feels that a "yes" vote should be cast for all seven measures.

The total amount of the County Building Bond Measures which need the approval of two-thirds of the voters next Tuesday, is $7,115,000. If they are given the necessary vote of approval, current housing requirements for county departments, agencies and offices will be reasonably well met which is about as much as we can ask.

Measure No. 1 would provide County office and service buildings at a cost of $2,825,00 on land owned by the County. Included in this group would be the administration building, central services building, fiscal building and school department building.

Measure No. 2 would provide a hospital chronic nursing unit of approximately 70 patient capacity for $450,000 to be constructed on the County Hospital grounds on land owned, or to be owned by the County.

Measure No. 3 would require $1,200,000 for a Juvenile Hall and Probation Department building. Construction would be on land owned or to be acquired by the County. The building would contain living units, with adequate provision for segregatioon as to age and type of offense.

Measure No. 4 would require $180,000 for the Health Department wing and would be on land owned by the County to house the sanitation division and occupational health division.

Measure No. 5 will cost approximately $835,000 and is for the North County Building. In approximately 36,000 square feet of floor, court facility and office space, and approximately 9,000 square feet of basement area, it will house the Superior Court, two Municipal Courts, secretary of the Superior Court and Jury Commissioner.

There will be branch offices also for various other county departments. This building will serve the needs of the North County area, with a population of more than 100,000. To be constructed on land owned by the county, the savings in lost man-hours mileage claims and rent now paid for the scattered county offices, will total more than the entire building costs.

Measure No. 6 for $350,000 is for a badly needed Communications Building with offices for work areas, equipment rooms, utility rooms, repair and storage facilities. This amount also allows for the purchase of a two or three acre building site.

Measure No. 7 would provide $1,275,000 for the acquisition of real property necessary for use of the County for any County buildings, including lands, easements and rights-of-way.

"NO" on Two County Amendments

Two county charter amendments are on the ballot next Tuesday which would make major changes in county government organization and we're voting "no" on both.

Proposition A would take the controller, who also is auditor, out from under the county executive and place him directly under the Board of Supervisors.

Obviously there are advantages as well as disadvantages to the contemplated change. But we are going to vote "no" on it because we feel that if the Board members do not have confidence in the county executive they should remove him rather than try to weaken his effectiviness.

Proposition B would increase the Supervisors' salaries and contemplates that the job will then become "Full-time" and not just the theoretical part-time as it is now. But it ties the increase onto the Superior Judges' pay (one-half). When the Judges get a raise, so do the supervisors. Maybe the supervisors need more dough but we certainly don't like this idea of riding the robe-tails of the judges. So we're agin it as it stands now.

On The Line in Campbell

We have received a surprising number of compliments for the editorial endorsements of candidates and propositions that appeared in last week's issue.

Some of the compliments were paid by a few people who didn't agree with our stand but they liked the idea anyway.

An old friend of ours and former boss, Ralph Turner, publisher of The Temple City Times, mailed back the editorial page to us on which the endorsements appeared. He had added some penciled marginal notes.

He dismissed the paragraph in which we explained that we were skipping the endorsement of a presidential candidate with the scathing comment: "coward!"

His comment on our endorsement of Richard Richards for United States Senator was "You'll be sorry."

We reported that we were voting "no" on 4. Turner wrote on the margin "I'll kill your vote".

On Proposition 5 for which we favor a "yes" vote because we feel that a law shouldn't be on the books that is unenforceable, our old boss noted, "You're ok on this."

—o—

Perhaps we did assume too much when we skipped the presidential endorsement in our editoral. Sincerely we felt that most people had made up their minds (It wasn't cowardice, Ralph, really that prompted us to skip it). We also felt that a community newspaper such as ours should be more concerned with local and state affairs than national.

One of our readers called after reading the editorial to find out what our recommendation was on the presidential race.

She said that she really wanted to know.

It seems that she was originally a Southern Democrat but did not like either Adalai or Estes. She liked Ike all right but cared little for Dick.

—o—

We are not a "Southern Democrat" unless the term applies to a "Southern San Joaquin Valley Democrat", but, ironically, our reader's problem is very much like our own.

For the record we are voting for Ike. We think he has done a pretty good job and is extremely sincere. We must also admit that he has a terrific personality which probably is playing more of an important part in our decision than we would care to admit.

But we still hold firm to our belief that our job on this newspaper is more concerned with local than national issues, although we are stretching the point a wee bit by just telling you in this column how we feel about the situation.

—o—

Last Thursday we gained some idea of how much some of our subscribers miss their Campbell Press when one of our carriers failed to deliver his route before school.

It was the only route that was missed fortunately. Otherwise, if the calls were any indication of how the majority of our readers feel, our phones probably would have been overtaxed all day.

As it was we received 19 calls before noon from subcribers on this one route.

As much as we regretted that the people missed their papers we are happy in a way to know that the paper was missed.

—o—

We received another complimentary letter this week in regard to the number of local pictures we publish every week. "Local folks enjoy the very interesting pictures of Campbell area happenings that appear in your paper each week," 'another reader' wrote, "I think some photos of the speed regulation signs posted between Campbell and Vasona Junction for southbound traffic would bring a big laugh from your readers" . . .

"We are wondering how many citizens have had to pay fines for speeding on that stretch of Winchester Road, when the Highway Department (or persons responsible) have signs so well hidden behind the branches of beautiful trees!"

To obilge "another reader" we trotted out thataway and shot a picture of the sign in question.

We are glad our readers like the photos we have been breaking our neck getting. With a limited staff like ours it is just a question of putting on a different hat and shooting. By the same token we are limited in our shooting but we do try to get around.

—o—

For example, we had occasion to shoot two fire pictures recently. One of them came out exceptionally well, despite the fact that we were worried about it at the time. (Our flash didn't go off).

It was by far the best fire picture we have ever taken and Dick Van Rossem, who does all our developing, has blown it up for our office wall.

That particular fire occured on a Sunday afternoon while we were attending a barbecue over at Joe Anello's. We had to rush home for our camera and then rush back to the fire, which was quite a rush.

We don't get an opportunity to be on the scene very often. In this case, of course, Joe took credit for it. After all, Anello points out, it was while we were at his place that the fire was spotted.

But all kidding aside, we are happy to know that our readers do appreciate our efforts in putting out this sheet and we will continue to keep shooting and trying.

Against No. 5

Editor,
The Campbell Press
Sir:

The November ballot contains some "loaded" propositions, and at least one is more "loaded" than others. Proposition 5 is one of the most subtle and sneaky ballot issues I have ever seen come up for vote.

Here's what Proposition 5 proponents want; They want to keep all the liquor dispensing establishments we now have and to them they want to add hundreds, perhaps thousands of other places, call them saloons if you want, that will not serve food with liquor—simply guzzling joints where one can get "pie-eyed" without slowing the process with food.

What will a passage of this Proposition do? It will say in effect to our liquor control people in Sacramento that liquor control laws ought to be relaxed even more than they are now. In the wake of this relaxation will come more alcohol-related crime, more police to handle it, more jails to contain them, more taxes to hire the police, more broken homes because of the increased crime, and more welfare funds to take care of the broken home victims.

Proposition 5 is subtle in that its proponents, the Beverage Industry boys, say its passage will protect our youth from liquor evils! Rubbish! Youngsters will still be able to eat alongside the drinking man in establishments we already have. All this measure will do will be to stop young[illegible]ers from entering the saloons, which won't be in existence anyway if people vote this measure down.

All around, the community benefits from a "NO" vote on proposition 5.

Respectfully yours,

Allen Backs Proposition 2

Assemblyman Bruce Allen told a group of Campbell citizens recently that during a four-month period earlier this year 2900 students were added to the regular enrollment in the Campbell Union High School District.

The meeting was held at the home of Robert Landreth, newly appointed principal of Monroe School.

Allen urged a favorable vote on proposition 2 as a "realistic step" to improve school facilities.

90 YEARS
OF DEPENDABLE WATER SERVICE

This is the way San Jose State College began. Then called California State Normal School, this first building was completed in 1876; it burned in 1880.

When San Jose State College came to town San Jose Water Works had already been piping a dependable supply of water to local homes for five years.

The "Normal School," as it was called, had moved down from San Francisco and opened the year 1871 with 181 students. While the building was under construction, classes met in the high school. This new building was the first on the site of the present San Jose State campus, which today counts a student body of 10,973.

San Jose Water Works was ready in 1871 to provide the Normal School with safe, dependable water service and it is ready today to serve the new homes and industries of the fast-growing San Jose area.

Today the central Santa Clara Valley is served by San Jose Water Works' 874 mile network of water mains and a total storage capacity of 2,361,000,000 gallons. These facilities are supplied from two sources—deep wells on the floor of the Valley and reservoirs in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Only a few cities in the entire nation have the extra safety resulting from these varied supplies.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Cynics, who have long claimed that government is a state of organized confusion, may have a specific point in mind. At least, I have never met anybody who could understand the salary system still used to figure out the pay of Congressional clerks. If the legislative branch of the government is as interested in efficiency as all Senators and Congressmen, regardless of party, usually proclaim, it is high time that they look really close to home and do something about the antiquated system governing their own clerks' pay.

It seems that those who work in Congressional committees, offices, and facilities are paid according to a law passed in 1945. Since the cost-of-living has gone up since then, so has the pay of Federal workers, including those in the legislative branch. But instead of simply substituting new tables and schedules, innovations were all put down as additions to the old schedule, so that, at the present time, there are seven steps to be taken in addition to finding the original or base pay.

Let us look at the salary of a clerk listed as receiving $1,500 per year base pay. You might shake your head and justifiably say that the poor girl cannot possibly survive in Washington on $125 per month, but she happens to get considerably more, indeed, more than twice the base pay figure. According to the first amending law, there was an increase in 1946, amounting to 20 per cent of the first $1,200, and 10 per cent of amounts between $1,200 and $4,600. Then came a flat $250 raise (or 14 per cent, which ever was greater.) There was then an additional 10 per cent increase. In the fourth place, there was a flat $330 increase, followed by a five per cent raise, and a few years later, a raise of 10 per cent which, however, should not be less than $300 nor more than $800. After all this has been added, the 7½ per cent raise voted by the 84th Congress should be added.

Confused enough now? ? ? Well, in the case of the girl who gets $1,500 base pay, it works out like this: $1,500, plus 270 in step one, $250 on step 2, $202 in step 3, $330 in step 4, $127.60 in step five, $300 in step 6, and 223.47 in the final step, giving her a total gross salary of $3,203.07 per year, or more than $266 per month. Wouldn't it be much easier to just list her as such?
